Dear Guests,

Welcome and thank you for attending our 4th Annual RSVP Golf Classic!

Your support today will enable us to enhance and expand these critical children's programs to ensure that each student is ready to excel in the fall.

Family Literacy
Virtual Literacy and America Reads
My Free Tutor and STEM
Youth Mentoring

For more than 45 years RSVP has been a vital and responsive resource for some of the unmet needs in our local communities, including those of our most vulnerable children, families, veterans and the elderly.

Through collaboration and partnership with nonprofit and government agencies, corporations, United Ways, school districts and aging agencies, we harness the tremendous potential of volunteers into a dynamic force for change by creating responsive programming as critical needs within our communities emerge.

Currently, more than 1,200 adults are actively volunteering through our dynamic programs. During 2020, our volunteers positively impacted the lives of 11,000 vulnerable community residents by helping children and adults learn to read, tutoring students and veterans in math, exposing students to exciting careers in the STEM fields, assisting low-income seniors, mentoring at-risk youth, providing Medicare counseling, providing warm meals to homebound seniors and volunteering their time in many important community programs. What's remarkable, is that all of these programs shifted from one-on-one to virtual and continued to deliver support and services where needed most.

Thank you for joining us today! We are so grateful for your support. If we can improve your day on the course in any way, please let us know. Enjoy!

With sincere gratitude,

Michele Mall

Today's Golf Classic Benefits RSVP's Virtual Programs

Each year, RSVP programs positively impact the lives of 11,000 local residents through award-winning programs created to address the needs of some of our most vulnerable populations.

During 2020, COVID shut down our communities. When our volunteers were no longer able to serve in person, we responded by transitioning our programs to virtual platforms. It was more critical than ever to help students face the challenges of this new form of learning and to help bridge the educational gap between disadvantaged students and their more advantaged peers.

We recruited an additional 800 eager volunteers to compliment the 1,200 loyal and dedicated volunteers already meeting community needs to ensure our COVID Response Programs were delivering services where they were needed most.

Families facing hunger were secured access to food pantries, distribution events and home delivered meals.

A new program created this year, addressed the need for low-tech seniors to access community resources and connect with family and friends. Senior Technology Training provides online training in the use of mobile devices, computers and laptops to help reconnect seniors with their communities.

RSVP volunteers take on roles to help disadvantaged preschool students and their families; at-risk youth, low-income elderly, those with low literacy and STEM skills, seniors needing help with health insurance and benefits; and capacity building support to area nonprofits throughout the Greater Philadelphia area.

RSVP Programs

Benefit Children through Engagement and Education and Adults/Seniors through Wellness and Education

During COVID, these programs shifted to virtual in order to ensure the safety of students and our volunteers.

Family Literacy

84% of teachers affirmed that Vello improved overall grade-level reading progress for their class

Volunteers read aloud to to Head Start preschoolers to excite students about reading and expose them to letters, colors, sounds and storytelling.

Books are gifted to students several times a year ensuring that each child will have a book to call their own along with reading tips for parents to promote reading at home.

To learn more visit https://www.rsvpmc.org/presc hool-literacy

Using a platform developed by Vello and United Way, volunteers work with 1st - 5th grade students to enhance reading skills. Students read gradelevel books to volunteer tutors and then discuss the storyline. Student progress is tracked with feedback going to teachers.

Virtual Reading

My Free Tutor and STEM

78 disadvantaged students and veterans received virtual math tutoring 40 career professionals recorded their career journeys for our free online career library

My Free Tutor

This cutting-edge virtual program enables volunteers to help students in grades 4-12 and veterans returning to college with math. Online sessions focus on areas of difficulty enabling the student to grasp challenging concepts. To learn more: https://www.rsvpmc.org/my-free-tutor-home-page

STEM

Professionals share their experiences of securing their career path through recorded sessions. Students are inspired and many recognize their potential to make education and career choices they may never have thought were possible. To learn more: https://www.rsvpmc.org/career-presenters

Senior Technology Training

To address the isolation felt by many seniors, this program provides online tutoring to use Zoom, the internet, social media sites as well as the ability to access community resources.

Seniors select the device they would like training on: a computer, tablet, internet, or smartphone. In some cases, a tablet will be provided for low-income seniors.

To learn more visit: https://www.rsvpmc.org/wellness

Youth Mentoring

Mentors are matched with local students who have been identified as being at-risk. Without a consistent and engaged adult in their lives, students often do not recognize their potential or their option to avoid risky behavior.

Mentors provide support and guidance encouraging positive outcomes and academic success enabling students to recognize their abilities.

Pairs are now meeting virtually.

To learn more: https://www.rsvpmc.org/mentoring

88% of mentored students improve their school engagement

America Reads

90% of students improved their reading confidence

Reading coaches encourage K-5th grade students who are struggling with reading and comprehension. These individual sessions enable the volunteer to focus on the student and his/her unique needs eliminating the fear many students have of reading aloud in front of the classroom.

Pairs are now meeting virtually.
